These new boutiques make us want to charge into the new year. By Kathleen Neary

Hitched (1523 Wisconsin Avenue NW, 202-333-6162). Two recent brides brought their first-hand knowledge of wedding planning together and opened this new bridal boutique, about five blocks north of M Street. Catering to busy professionals wanting to knock several things off their to-do lists at once, Washington natives Julia Lichtman Kepniss and Carin Rosenberg Levine sell couture gowns by six designers, including Suzanne Ermann and Richard Glasgow, and bridesmaid garb by Amsale and Simple Silhouettes. The interior is hip and shabby chic, while a back patio—the setting for workshops on makeup, wedding programs, and wine—is available for photo shoots or bridal-shower rental. Look for accessories, invitations, gift bags, and vendor referrals, as well.
